KSM SOUTH is a leading independent media agency that delivers results through original media solutions.

A custom mural created by famed Austin street artist Federico Archuleta in the lobby shows how media impacts lives and blends Austin's cultural references with subtle references to the brand's home base in Chicago.

Bright and colorful materials throughout the space reflect Austin's Southwest aesthetic

Writable surfaces and Allsteel desks make up the open office benching area with subtle references to the KSM logo trickled throughout the space.

The cafe incorporates branded material from key KSM clients, a custom neon sign by artist Todd Sanders and vintage marquee lighting.

As the core communal space for employees, the cafe includes hanging swing chairs, movable furniture, and a playful color palette.

The Board Room provides a meeting space for formal presentations and events.

A corner conference space with green turf carpet and movable furniture is a flexible, informal space that supports changing configurations and features sweeping views of the Capitol -- bringing the outdoors in.
